Mehrdadfar

Sepehr Mehrdadfar was born in 1986 in Tehran. He holds a bachelor's degree in Architectural Engineering and a master's degree in Interior Architecture, both from Tehran. In 2012, he co-founded the architectural studio "Tarh va Ideh Raman" with a group of his university peers. Since 2017, he has been working as the founder and head of a group called "Hamoun."

The primary focus of the Hamoun group, from its inception, has been on designing furniture and lighting.

Who We Are?

Hamoun is a group of Iranian artists and designers who work across three disciplines: architecture, interior design, and object design. Founded in 2017, Hamoun has concentrated its efforts primarily on object design since the beginning. In the realm of object design (furniture and lighting), Hamoun consistently seeks to achieve a level of skill and design quality that results in objects that not only fulfill a need but also evoke emotions and bring meaning to life.

In the process of idea formation, the design thought was turned from interior architecture to object design that met needs. It should have specified the path. It had to keep the vision. It should not distort the structure of the building. It had to be compatible with the spirit of the space. It should have reflected the time. It had to create efficiency for the space. It had to define the fields. It should cover parts. It should have been seen. It should have invited. It had to make memories. It should have created a familiar feeling. It should have remained like a building. The result is a large counter placed in the middle, which has influenced the space with its curvature and shine.

5. Moving the center of the form outward to accommodate the coffee machine and emphasizing the placement of the beer keg

6. More involvement of the counter form with the perspective of the audience and change behavior in passing

It was designed in such a way that it has a prominent face and a "visible" presence in the architectural space. It was also important to make it simple. An aluminum belt, a Plexiglas plate as a diffuser and a pipe for installing and accessing electricity are the components of the moon. Finally, a "ball" as an index element keeps all the parts in connection with each other and ensures the integrity of the system.

The background is a vibrant yellow with several large, overlapping, organic shapes in a slightly darker shade of yellow, creating a layered, abstract effect. The shapes are rounded and fluid, resembling natural forms like leaves or water droplets.
